

KNOX PEACE RESOLUTION TO FIND NO FAVOR WITH WILSON

Administration Senators Say He Will Veto the Measure--Treaty Issue Results

Senator Knox May Become Logical Man to Head Republican Ticket

(By United Press)
Washington, May 4.—There is no doubt at all that President Wilson will veto the Knox peace resolution, it was flatly stated in authoritative manner at headquarters here today.

Administration senators understand that the President will veto it, and "veto it quick."

A presidential campaign on a straight issue of the treaty of Versailles vs the Knox peace resolution appeared possible as a result.

Democratic Leader Underwood let it be known that their plan for a filibuster against the Knox resolution had been called off on suggestion from the White House.

He was reshaping the entire democratic program for the fight on the resolution which comes up in the senate tomorrow. Adoption of the Knox resolution seems likely in view of the new democratic attitude. Both sides have predicted it would get a majority vote. The only hope of the democrats to defeat it was by filibustering.

President Wilson is ready to instantly veto the measure and seize the opportunity of presenting a clear cut issue to the country; the treaty against the Knox resolution, it is understood.

This sudden manoeuvre started considerable speculation as to the effect of the Knox resolution boom for the republican presidential nomination. With his peace resolution the chief issue in the presidential campaign Senator Knox himself would be a logical man to head the ticket his friends believe.

In the development indicating it would be a clearcut treaty fight was the appearance of Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, in conference with three leading treaty irreconcilables at Washington. They discussed the question of the treaty plank to be written in the republican platform. Hays conferred with Senators Borah, McCormick and Brandegee of the irreconcilables. The senators appeared greatly pleased over the conference with Hays, and it was learned that the national chairman had indicated to them he believed a "strong treaty plank" should be included in the platform.

Lodge Article Given Out

The part of the Lodge article as given out read:

"The president has delivered the war message, and congressmen who voted for the war would be guilty of the blackest crime if they were not willing to make a peace status 'ante bellum' and recreate the situation which existed before the war."

"If we send our army of young men abroad to be killed and wounded in northern France and Flanders with no result but this our entry into the war would be a crime which nothing can justify."

"The intent of congress and the intent of the President was that there could be no peace until we could create a situation where no war such as this could recur. We can not make peace except in connection with the allies. It would brand us with everlasting dishonor and perhaps ruin also if we undertook to make separate peace."

Administration officials claim that Lodge, in backing the Knox peace resolution is supporting the very course denounced in the quoted excerpts.

President Again Resumes Aggressive Leadership in Fight

Wilson Determined to Make Treaty a Campaign Issue in This Fight

Washington, May 4.—President Wilson has again assumed an aggressive leadership in the fight for the peace treaty and against the congressional peace resolution it became plain today. Developments during the last twenty-four hours indicate the president is still determined to make the treaty the campaign issue if necessary, and that he probably will return it to the senate before congress recesses in June. These developments were:

Administration senate leaders were advised that they should abandon the plan for a filibuster against the Knox peace resolution which is scheduled to come up tomorrow, and let the measure be passed and sent to the White House.

From an authoritative administration source it was stated definitely that the president would veto the resolution and "veto it quickly." What his next step will be was not revealed.

Administration officials called attention to excerpts from an article written by Senator Lodge for the Forum in December 1918. This action was the first open blow aimed at treaty opponents from the White House since the senators returned the treaty to the president.

Favorite Sons Battle in Golden State for Votes

(United Press)
San Francisco, Cal., May 4.—With the eyes of the nation on them California voters went to the polls today to choose between Senator Johnson and Herbert Hoover, "favorite sons". The polls opened at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

The Johnson organ appeared with banners with writing declaring the state is solid for Johnson and saying a vote for Hoover will be a vote against California. Special observers with eyes on Johnson could see nothing but Johnson's majority as a result of the day's balloting. Johnson in his race for United States senator carried the state by 296,000. On the other hand Hoover's strength is unknown. He has never been a politician. This is his first real campaign.

Heavy Voting Where Johnson Is Strong

Many Delegates to be Uninstructed

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 4.—Republican county conventions to choose delegates to the state elimination convention here on Saturday will be held in every Minnesota county tomorrow.

In spite of some favorite son booms it is believed a large majority of the delegates to state conventions will be uninstructed. Republican leaders hope to evolve a state ticket in which all factions will unite in the republican party and declare war on the non-partisan league. With more than a dozen candidates for governor some leaders today were talking "dark horse."

Bitter Mayoralty Campaign in St. Paul

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 4.—St. Paul was naming a mayor today. M. L. Hodgson is candidate for re-election opposed by Wm. Mahoney, labor candidate.

The campaign has been one of the most bitter in the city's political history. Patriotism and socialism have been the two words used mostly.

While Hodgson has refrained from personal mention, his organization back of him have lambasted his opponents as socialists and Reds, while Hodgson has been attacked as "hiring of capital," etc.

Voting early today was unusually heavy.

Bonus Bond Sale Extended 15 Days

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 4.—The popular sale of certificates of indebtedness to raise funds to pay soldier bonus which was to end today, was extended fifteen days longer by the state bonus board meeting here today.

Henry Rines, state treasurer, urged that a large number of small banks which have not yet taken advantage of the sale invest in securities now. Up to date $1,500,000 worth of the $4,500,000 issue had been disposed of to small takers. The members are going to New York soon to sign certificates of a new issue.

(By United Press)

Mr. Vasaly with other members of the board is attending a quarterly conference today with heads of the state institution at the state school of blind at Faribault. J. B. Sanborn of the state insurance commission who was mentioned as a possible candidate for the board of control said today that he was not a candidate. Gustav Lindquist, the governor's private secretary, was mentioned in connection with the candidacy, but he said today he did not want it. The fact that the one who is appointed will serve only to the end of this year has decreased the number of applicants.

Whoever is elected governor next November will have the appointment of members of the board for six years, the term beginning next January.

Sensations of Heat and Cold.

The feeling of cold or warmth is caused by sensations in the skin and has little significance as to the body temperature. On a hot day one may feel very hot when the body temperature is quite normal. Again at the beginning of a fever one may feel cold as in the case of a chill. This chilly feeling is caused by the contrast between the higher temperature of the internal organs and still normal temperature of the skin.

ST. OLAF CONCERT BAND

To Play at New Park Theatre on Thursday Evening, May 6—Famous Organization

The St. Olaf Concert band of St. Olaf's college, Northfield, heralded as one of the finest bands on tour and one of the largest, will give a concert in Brainerd Thursday evening, May 6, at the New Park Theatre. Brainerd and Superior, Wis., are the only cities in this section near the Head of the Lakes in which the organization will play this season.

Featured with the band is Miss Jennie Skurdalsvold contralto said to be one of the most gifted singers present out from the Northwest. She will be heard in a variety of selections. She studied with Hamlin Hunt of Minneapolis and Herbert Witherspoon of New York.

The St. Olaf band is now in its thirty-second season, and is now under the direction of F. Melius Christensen. It has long been recognized as one of the best in the Northwest and has grown rapidly as well as steadily in efficiency. It has extended its travels to Norway where it was given a most enthusiastic reception. Thirty-five concerts were given abroad on this tour, and the organization returned with many tokens of success, including hundreds of the most flattering press notices.

It is claimed no large musical organization from the Northwest has ever traveled so far or so extensively as has St. Olaf concert band. Here is what one William critic had to say of the program there:

"One of the best-directed and best-trained bands that has ever played in this city, was the verdict given by the theatre-going public, after the concert here Monday evening by the St. Olaf Concert Band. The band numbers fifty pieces, is well balanced in the different instruments, being especially strong in the cornet and clarinet sections, and played a program here of classical numbers in a manner to excite admiration. The band showed at its best in the playing of the lighter numbers of the encores, giving an especially spirited and dashing rendition of several popular numbers as encores to the heavier numbers of the program."

Erickson-Gronquist

The wedding of Miss Gladys S. Erickson and Albin W. Gronquist was celebrated at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the parsonage of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Rev. M. L. Hostager officiating and using the ring service of the English Lutheran church.

The bride was handsomely and most becomingly gowned in dark blue tulle and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Selma Erickson, her sister. The best man was George E. Fricker.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Erickson. The happy couple left on a wedding trip to Bemidji and upon their return will be at home to their many friends after June 1 at 224 First Avenue Northeast.

The bridegroom is a well known machinist of the Northern Pacific railway shops and the bride a charming girl with a large circle of acquaintances. The best wishes of their many friends are extended to them.

CAN MAKE HER OWN BLOUSES

Accomplished Seamstress Able to Save Many Dollars in Constructing Wearing Apparel.

If you can do fine tucking and hemstitching by hand you can have several distinguished blouses of the fine handkerchief linen sort so fashionable this spring. One blouse may be hemstitched in ladder effect down the front. Another may have tucks and lines of hemstitching in alternation across the front. Still another may have tucks running down from the shoulder line and a narrow vest of horizontal tucks. The neck may be finished with a flat collar, tucked or hemstitched, or with three tiny, overlapping frills of lace. Or with an embroidery beading run with black velvet ribbon. The beading should take half-inch ribbon and should be attached to a rounded out neckline so that it will stand up straight—like a little collar.

Scarfs With Pockets.

Wide scarfs of sable are made with outside pockets, after the fashion of the woolen sport scarfs. The woolen scarfs, by the way, come in greater variety than ever before—and more charming variety, too. They are soft and wide and in lovely color combinations, sometimes in stripes, sometimes simply in blended weaves of different colored threads.

Present-Day Dress Accessories Almost Barbaric.

Beads, Earrings and Oddly-Adorned Hats Are Among Styles Offered by Paris.

There is a splendor almost barbaric in present-day accessories of dress, notes a Paris fashion writer. Although production in Europe is not more than 15 per cent of normal, there appears to be no curtailment in purely decorative things. Along with the far eastern ideas that just now are embodied in clothes comes the use of bright colors; and in color alone there is limitless possibility for extravagant effects.

Oriental girdles of brilliantly colored galath or of beads are worn over sweaters, gowns, coats and even negligees. There are huge earrings, set with colored stones. No less a person than Louis of Paris, makes hats with chains and earrings hanging from beneath the brim, the chains going across from one side of the brim to the other like rows of necklaces.

One hat goes so far as to have a Spanish comb thrust into the side for trimming. This is a tiny hat, with an uprolling brim in front and cut very short in the back. It is overhung with a draped veil, the folds of the drapery being fastened with the comb. Veils, too, are draped under the chin, after the manner of the strings of beads mentioned above. These oddly adorned hats act as foils for the new smooth coiffure that shows the hair drawn tightly back, without curl or wave of any sort, and the ends rolled under and pinned high at the back of the head, a striking mode of dressing the hair, but a trying one for many women. No ornament of any sort is worn with this type of hair-dressing, unless it be a Spanish comb thrust into one side of the coiff.

To Strengthen Steel.

Cincinnati is one of six places in the world where steel is strengthened by being boiled in oil. Recently at a plant in Carthage, a steel shaft weighing 30,000 pounds, the largest piece ever subjected to the new method, went through the process of being strengthened. It was a "hollow-bored tumbler shaft" for use in dredging gold in California, costing about $17,000. The great shaft was first suspended in an upright furnace until heated to just below the melting point. A crane then picked it up and dropped it into a huge well of oil, where it boiled and spluttered, throwing out clouds of oily mist.

Some of the Rind.
An Indianapolis man says that recently he took home some honey with quite a bit of comb in it. Naturally the smallest boy desired some bread and butter and honey, but in asking for it, said: "I want some bread and butter and some honey, and I want some of the rind, too."

Magical Home Baking

New York, May 3.—If over eight thousand women called at your door and each one left an original home baking recipe, think how wonderful that would be!

The pick of over eight thousand recipes is available to you, however, almost for the asking. Several years ago this number of recipes was submitted in a prize contest. One of the conditions was that recipes should be practical, original and not found in cook books.

Some of the best-known cooking authorities of the country selected two hundred and fifty of these as being the most practical, economical and attractive recipes for home use.

This prize list was published as the Ryzon Baking Book. Its effect upon the women of America was astonishing! Today over two million homes are using this national manual of baking. Two million housewives are not only learning the secret of creating original tastes for their tables, but also, through the use of Ryzon, the Perfect Baking Powder, according to the modern, scientific level measure recipes in the Ryzon Baking Book, they have mastered the magic of making their baking turn out just right every time. For Ryzon, used according to directions, takes the "guess" out of baking.

Good baking is a valuable accomplishment. Any woman can earn the title of Good Baker. The Ryzon Baking Book is a standard text book.

The new Ryzon Baking Book (original price $1.50, containing 250 practical recipes, will be mailed, postpaid, upon receipt of 35 cents in stamps or coin. Or if you will purchase two or more pounds of Ryzon at once from your grocer, sending us his name and address promptly, we will mail you a Ryzon Baking Book free. BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. Try dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

AUSTRIA'S FLIGHT

The depths to which Austria has fallen are reflected in the sympathetic interest, amounting almost to a feeling of friendship, which Italy is showing in her case. Germany, notwithstanding her obvious weakness, continues to be hated, suspected, feared. But no nation longer retains hostile sentiments for the former realm of the Hapsburgs, though it was this country that precipitated the war. Austria is in too wretched a plight now to permit even her bitterest foe to continue to harbor enmity for her.

It reflects credit upon the Italian government and people that with Austria prostrate and harmless they have put aside vengeful feelings and are trying to restore her to her feet. Not even the memory of the suffering their country experienced from the Austrians' invasion has restrained them from offering succor to a beaten foe. Thousands of starving Austrian children have been brought to Italy and are being cared for. Italy announces that she will advance 20,000 tons of breadstuffs to Austria against expected American shipments.

It is gratifying to note that Austria is not unappreciative. The people are being told by their leaders that they must show a determination to help themselves if they desire other nations to assist them. In other words Austria must earn the right to succor, not merely expect it as an obligation owed her. This is the right spirit and will accomplish much toward winning Austria a place among the respected nations.

SHARP EYES REWARDED

An eastern railroad has made a good investment in the $50 of war savings stamps that it has bestowed upon a 12-year-old newsboy as a reward for giving notice of a broken rail. It will encourage other boys to keep their eyes open and promptly report anything they may observe which holds a threat to life and limb.

Perhaps it will be said that the newsboy did no more than his duty in reporting the broken rail, and that everybody else would have done the same thing under the circumstances. Experience shows otherwise. This lad not only was sharp-eyed but also keen-witted. The notification that he gave the railroad officials made it possible to stop an approaching passenger train, and thus what might have been a serious wreck was avoided by his action. The railroad company's gift will stimulate other lads to use their eyes and their wits.

LET'S HAVE A CELEBRATION

The Northern Pacific railway depot at Brainerd, one of the finest on the whole system, is to have its official grand opening on May 15.

There should be a civic celebration in which every interest of the city joins—shops, town and countryside. Hon. Jule M. Hannaferd should be invited and all the rest of the Northern Pacific railway officials to attend the celebration.

Brainerd cannot overdo itself with this celebration. The new depot means a lot to the city and the first impression it gives to the stranger in the gates of Brainerd is that here is a link of a live railway system, and a live town too or the railway company would not so favor Brainerd.

BARBED WIRE

School children have notified the Dispatch that barbed wire was on some of the fences near Lincoln school property and asking if it was proper to string barbed wire in city limits.

If such wire is used as fencing near school property it should certainly be removed and plain wire substituted. The barbs may catch in children's clothes and may injure them.

DROP LETTER BOXES AT DEPOT

Drop letter boxes at the old depot numbered two, one at the west end near Sixth street and one at the east end of the depot. At the new depot the west end box has been placed in position. The east box has not been placed as yet and businessmen and others are anxious to have it located.

NORTHWEST NEWS

St. Paul Election Today
 St. Paul, May 4.—St. Paul was picking a mayor today.

Mayor Lawrence C. Hodgson, is seeking re-election on his merits. His opponent is William Mahoney, president of the St. Paul Trades and Labor Assembly, and candidate of the labor forces.

Their fight has been one of the most bitter in the city's political history. It has been accentuated by the bitter fight for seats as councilmen.

The labor ticket includes four candidates for councilmen. They are opposed by eight men, four of whom are former service men and running on their patriotic records. Six are to be elected.

The "For Home and Country Club," an organization backing Hodgson's candidacy has charged the labor ticket with representing Socialism. Cries of "big business" and "special interests" have resounded from the labor headquarters. Polls will be open until 9 o'clock tonight.

Officers of the congress announced that the campaign would be launched at once, and that the 12,000 women who will take part in it will urge their friends to cooperate with the clubs.

OWN MADE GOWNS; SELF EARNED SUITS, PLEA TO GRADUATES

Parents Called Upon To Dispense with Filmy, Useless Commencement Gifts.

WOMEN ACTIVE FOR THRIFT

Thousands Making Report in Ninth District Three Months Test of Household Economy.

Self made dresses for the girls and suits bought with money earned by themselves for the boys is the plea being sent graduates of the Ninth district by Miss Hester M. Pollock, Director of School and Women's Activities of the Government Savings Organization.

"Be neat and sweet in your own made simple, practicable outfit is the suggestion we are making to the girls," said Miss Pollock, "and in furthering our effort to impress the idea of individual thrift we ask the boys to either wear their old suits or, if they must have a new one, to do some kind of work to take care of the expense.

Thrift Essays Suggested.

"We are also asking that in every commencement program an essay for thrift be inculcated—personal, family, neighborhood, community, state, nation.

"We are also requesting that the usual filmy, trivial, useless and often not suitable or desired commencement gifts be replaced with thrift stamps, or War Savings stamps—a start in life which will have a basis of something with real ballast."

Savings Organization work in the schools is explained in a general way by Miss Pollock. She says:

"First. We ask that a program of thrift be given in every grade and in every school.

"Second. That we receive an annual or semi annual report from each school as to thrift progress being made.

"Third. That pupils be given an opportunity to purchase thrift stamps.

"We have established thrift as a regular school subject in Minnesota and this we hope to do in the other states of the Ninth district in the near future."

Women's Activities.

Of the women's activities in the Ninth district, Miss Pollock explains that the three months thrift tests are being carried on by many thousands of women throughout the district. During the first month the women kept correct accounts of household expenses, using this information the second month to effect a saving and the third month the money thus saved is to be invested, preferably in government securities—and the information thus obtained will be used as material for permanent economy.

"Every effort is under way to establish a connecting link between the schools and the parents," said Miss Pollock. "We are cooperating with the Department of Justice and are directing our energies to make more popular than ever thrift gardens."

Milk Goats in America.

Six thousand goats are listed in the American milk goat registry. Three breeds are recognized. The Toggenburgs were originally imported from the valley of that name in Switzerland. They are distinguished by exact brown and white markings, especially about the head. Saanen goats hail from the Saanen valley, Switzerland, and are pure white. The Anglo-Nubian goats are a cross between the common English goat and the Nubians of Africa. They are a spotted variety and vary in color.

AMUSEMENTS

At the New Park Scen
 The Sir Ernest Shackleton South Pole expedition which was gone two years in the icy Southland and which brought back the motion pictures which have been called "The Bottom of the World", went into the Antarctic Circle purely for scientific purposes. The pole had been discovered by Amundsen not long before, so the Shackleton expedition was one which could afford to take its time and inspect the land, its animals and weather at leisure.

When "The Bottom of the World" opens at the Park theatre it will prove a treat to all, no matter whether the spectator be of scientific or curious turn of mind. For the picture is one long succession of polar marvels, stressing elements which have been overlooked in other similar pictures and bringing to mind countless new phases of antarctic life.

Details All Adventures

For instance pictures are shown of South Georgia, which is the outpost of Southern habitation, a bleak forbidding country where Shackleton last touched when he started into Polar seas.

Then there are interesting pictures of the dogs which were taken along by the hundred, of the tremendous ice bergs with which the ship battled, of the raising of deep sea specimens through the ice, of the disability of Shackleton's ship, the Endurance, of the great race for home with provisions running low, and of the monstrous seas against which the frail boats of the expedition fought after the Endurance was smashed.

AS SCIENTIST SEES FUTURE

Advances of 500 Years Will Make the Year 1920 Seem Like a Pre-historic Age.

Those unimaginative people who believe the high pitch of inventive genius was reached with the advent of electricity, talking machines, airplanes and the X-ray will be interested to know that civilization on this planet has really just begun. Dr. A. M. Low, a London engineer with many inventions to his credit, says five hundred years hence our descendants will look back upon conditions in 1920 with just such feelings of amused pity as we show for the state of the savages of pre-historic times.

The scientist predicts among other things that in 2420 A. D. all public thoroughfares and parks will be underground, vehicles will be run by wireless, telephones will carry an attendant enabling the speakers to see each other, and all roads will be as smooth as billiard balls.

Dr. Low, who invented a motor scooter and has produced an apparatus for seeing simple objects by wire, in a recent interview in London said in part:

"When a man sets out for business he will not proceed, as he does now, by tramway car or train; he will pass along delightful avenues underneath the surface of the earth. Parks and all other places of public resort and beauty will be moved in.

"Motor cars and all motor vehicles will proceed by wireless power and not by the crude method of using petrol. They will be fitted up like luxuriously appointed drawing rooms and will be driven at a rate of one hundred miles an hour. Wireless telephones will be installed in the cars, as well as every kind of appointment making for luxury and comfort. Many people will own these cars.

"People will live in a condition of splendid physical isolation. Television—that is, the ability to see your absent friend over a distance of many miles—and wireless telephony will lead to this condition.

"This vision is not extravagant or a wild set of theories. It is the direction in which scientific discoveries and experiments lead. Many scientific men have come face to face with discoveries and inventions which are only separated from actual realization by a simple little difficulty, which will certainly be overcome in time."

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES

"For the love of Mike", said a high school scholar, "what's happened to the Oddest Stories column. Have people quit being funny or what's the matter?"

County Agent E. G. Roth returned home from the upper reaches of the county. He carried with him three 23 1/2 pound pickers that he caught barehanded. He saw them flopping on a thoroughfare under a culvert near Gull lake and waded through wet grass in his pumps and caught the fish. The spirit of the true fisherman pervaded Mr. Roth. They are bound to catch fish whether they have a line and pole or not.

The Pillager Herald blossomed out into a metropolitan weekly of eight pages last Friday. Pillager is a good town and does much for Brainerd. As Tom Parsons used to say, most of Pillager is born in Brainerd, most of it is treated by Brainerd doctors and hospitals and some of it dies in Brainerd.

There is something of the boosting spirit in the gardener who plants his seeds and then sticks up the brilliant lithographed picture of what the stuff ought to be. It encourages the seed to become what the seed merchant advertised it to be. Nothing like a good example.

60 FOOT CRANE FALLS TO GROUND

Anchor Cable Broke at New Court House Construction Work and
Crane Fell Down

LUCKILY NO ONE WAS INJURED

Masons Were Not at Work—Anchor
Cable Measured Five-Eighths
Inches in Thickness

Near the noon hour the 60 foot crane of the J. and W. A. Elliott Co., Minneapolis contractors erecting the new Crow Wing county court house, fell to the ground when its anchor cable broke. There were no masons at work or several might have been killed. The steel boom was twisted as it struck one corner of the main floor and chipped out some ornamental stone.

The anchor cable is five-eighths of an inch steel and there was no great stress on the crane as no unusually large stone was being hoisted. Workmen under the direction of Supt. Andrew Johnson are busy righting the up-ended crane.

TO SAVE WHITE PINE

State and Nation to Combine in Fight
On White Blister Rust

A Minnesota campaign for 1920 to control white pine blister rust, which threatens valuable tracts of white pine, was planned on Wednesday at a conference in St. Paul between W. T. Cox, state forester, and Roy G. Pierce, forest pathologist in the United States bureau of plant industry. The work this season will be centered on protection for white pine on state and municipal lands which is threatened by blister rust.

The principal problem is the eradication of the wild gooseberry and currant bushes on which the plant disease develops before attacking the white pine.

The work begun at Interstate park, near Taylor Falls, two years ago, will be completed and new work will be started in Jay Cooke State park, the Cloquet state experimental station and the Little Falls municipal forests, and precautionary measures will be taken to protect the white pine in Itasca State park.

Evangelical Conference

The annual conference of the Evangelical Association was held at Olivia closing Sunday evening, May 2. Bishop S. P. Spreng of Naperville, Ill., presided.

The Forward Movement of the church in all its phases was duly emphasized. The sessions were characterized by intense spirituality, and were largely attended by people from all parts of the state, overflowing the spacious church. The armory was used, at least 5000 people attending the various meetings of Sunday.

The present pastor, Rev. F. M. Ohms, was again returned to the Brainerd church.

English Launch A Counter Offensive

Meet Campaign of Anti-British Propaganda, Ambassador Leads the Way

(By United Press)

Washington, May 4—A vigorous counter offensive apparently has been launched to meet the campaign of anti-British propaganda in the United States whose acts here were causing worry to statesmen on both sides of the Atlantic.

There were many evidences that such counter strokes are being essayed and that to Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador has been entrusted the task of leading the fight for America's good will.

Sir Geddes has been in Washington two weeks, has made two speeches, issued one long statement, headed several public dinners, visited the capital and shaken hands with a number of congressmen, breaking all the records of ambassadorial affability. The British ambassador's office no longer is forbidden territory to newspaper men, the men merely bow and enter and Geddes comes forward with a hearty handshake. The oldest diplomatic attache in Washington can not remember such cordiality and freedom.

PARCEL POST TO FOREIGN LANDS

AMERICAN SERVICE HAS BEEN EXTENDED TO 180 NATIONS
AND COLONIES.

VIRTUALLY COVERS WORLD

Great Strides Made Since the Signing of the Armistice—Canada Still Stands Aloof in the Matter of Weight.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The international parcel post has developed into a most important and formidable function of the world's greatest transportation medium—the postal service. The United States mail carries more separately-handled units of commodity than any other single transportation system. The domestic parcel post alone has long since passed the billion mark in yearly shipments, while the letters and periodicals, each separately handled through half a dozen processes, run into those staggering figures vaguely called "billions upon billions."

In 1913, when Postmaster General Burleson took hold of the postal service, one could send parcel post packages to but 44 countries in the entire world, and the greatest weight limit was 11 pounds. Today the American foreign parcel post service has been extended to 180 nations and colonies; and to 15 of these countries, including our biggest customers in Latin America and the Orient, you can send parcels up to 22 pounds, and to one of them—Panama—up to 50 pounds. In 1912, there were dispatched from the United States 2,270,215 pounds of export parcel post. During the next fiscal year our increase over 1912 was less than 600,000 pounds, and the increase in 1914 over 1913 was only a little more than 500,000 pounds.

Extended Throughout the World.

Immediately upon the conclusion of the armistice, when shipping became available, the department completed the work for which it laid the foundation during the war, and in the space of the next few months concluded parcel post arrangements with 18 foreign countries to which American parcel post had theretofore no admission. The doors of the great marts of the east, the south and the west were opened to us. China, Egypt and South Africa were among our new fields. Then came Spain and its colonies.

Arrangements were concluded with Great Britain and France whereby our international parcel post service was extended to every country reached by those powerful allies and not heretofore reached by our own direct steamship lines. By one stroke, so to speak, our parcel post service was extended throughout the world. It is not surprising that our export parcel post has increased from 2,270,215 pounds in 1912 to 17,102,131 pounds in 1919. In the first quarter of this fiscal year the post office department has already dispatched more than six million pounds of parcel post—more than was dispatched in 1912 and 1913, two prosperous pre-war years. So great has this volume of foreign mails become that the department will probably have to ask for one million dollars deficiency to pay for the increased steamship transportation.

Canada May Come Into Line.

The department has many inquiries as to why, with such readiness of almost all of the countries of the world to deal with the United States through the parcel post, our ally and next-door neighbor, Canada, should stand aloof. Canada announces international parcel post to practically all the countries of the world on an 11-pound basis, except to the United States, with which it has an arrangement for the exchange of parcel post up to four pounds, six ounces.

Although negotiations have long been in progress between the American and Canadian postal services for an extension of the weight limit to 11 pounds, the department says it does not desire of ultimate favorable action. The dealings between the American and Canadian postal authorities have been ever without friction, and always animated by a spirit of helpfulness and co-operation, and under those circumstances the department is confident that whatever obstacles in the past may have made it inadvisable for Canada to enter into a parcel post agreement with the United States will be overcome.

Out of this spirit of co-operation between the public and the department has grown a unique institution—the advisory committee on international parcel post. It is composed of exporters who use the parcel post and the committee has assigned to it an expert on international parcel post from the post office department, and the records and personnel of the division of foreign mails are at all times at its disposal.

Meanwhile the department is planning for a larger measure of congressional support for the domestic parcel post, particularly the rural delivery service.

Swift & Company Does Not Control Its Raw Material

Other industries can buy their raw materials according to need or judgment, and set a selling price. They need manufacture only what they can sell at their price.

Cotton, wool, wheat, lumber, iron, steel, and other non-perishables, can be held either by their producers or their users until needed.

But live stock comes to market every day in fluctuating quantities from scattered sources, wholly uncontrolled and at times without regard to market needs.

An immediate outlet must be found for the perishable products, at whatever price, as only a very small proportion can be stored.

No one can foresee or stipulate what they shall bring; prices must fluctuate from day to day to insure keeping the market clear.

Only the most exacting care of every detail of distribution enables Swift & Company to make the small profit from all sources of a fraction of a cent per pound, necessary for it to continue to obtain capital and maintain operations.

Making 9=23

THE number of motor vehicles in use in the United States during 1919 increased 23.2 percent over 1918. For the same period the production of gasoline increased only 9 percent.

To supply gasoline for the greatly increased fleet of motor vehicles is the problem confronting the petroleum industry.

To date, the solution of this problem has been possible by reason of the reserve stocks on hand. This bulk storage has served as an expansion and contraction factor to keep supply equal to demand.

In the 11 states it serves, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains 3780 bulk storage stations where stocks of gasoline are carried sufficient to meet the normal demand, with a reserve for almost any emergency.

Had it not been possible to keep this tremendous reserve in the field, thousands of motorists would have been unable to operate their cars during the late transportation troubles.

This equipment, representing an investment of millions of dollars, is managed by alert men, trained to serve you. So far it has proved itself equal to any demands made upon it.

The foresight of the men responsible for the operation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has enabled them to estimate accurately the probable needs of the motorist for gasoline, and they have located bulk and service stations at convenient points throughout the territory, where the needs of the buying public can be supplied quickly and easily.

This emphasizes the benefits derived by the public from the efficiency of a company as big as its job.
